THE NORTHWEST CONSPIRACY

PAST MEETING & SPEAKER

Looking for the graves of Confederate Generals offers far more exciting adventures than the subject indicates. Jack Brown, of the Dayton Roundtable, Dayton University Athletic Department and former National Football League player (in the "old" league), dramatized his experiences for the members in a lively presentation that took us into deserted mansion yards, isolated family plots and Old Dominion dining rooms.

He mentioned that he is now working on Union generals' graves and has not been able to locate General McClellan's final resting place. (Don Hamill, please note.)

COMING MEETING

Stephen Z. Starr, Past President of the Cincinnati Civil War Roundtable and writer of historical articles, will talk on Dec. 8 on the NORTHWEST CONSPIRACY. This is a talk generated by Mr. Starr's wish "to tear apart Frank Klement's academic hobbyhorse that the Copperheads were a Republican invention and that the Northwest Conspiracy of 1864 was nothing but a vote-catching gimmick with no real basis in fact."

Sounds like a good, stimulating topic and should be of interest to all members. Mr. Starr has a local reputation in Cincinnati (and not only at the Roundtable) for keeping his audiences awake. He is well-known as a speaker.

Added FUTURE MEETING Note

In January, there will be a panel discussion by three panel members: Guy DiCarlo, Jim Ramsey, and John Stevning.

The boys have picked subjects that are sure to stir up some hot discussions. More next letter, so that you will have the opportunity to bone up and be ready with some good questions.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

You will note that the price of our dinner has been reduced--undoubtedly a "first" in the history of our Roundtable.

To explain this, we must go back to the spring of this year when the meat industry was beset by certain labor troubles and the wholesale price of meat was increased. At this time we were advised by the Hermit Club that the base price of the steak dinner would be over $5. (We had been paying $3.75 with a 15% service charge and 3% sales tax, for a total of $4.43, with the extra 18¢ coming from our treasury.

However, we were also informed that we could order a pot roast dinner for $3.25, making the total $3.84. We are ordering this dinner on a trial basis for our November meeting. Which meal we order in the future will be up to the members.

The Hermit Club seems to be the most satisfactory place we have found for our meetings. The surroundings are ideal considering the number who usually attend and the type of meeting we have. Best of all, the atmosphere is friendly, since some Roundtable members are also members of the Hermit Club.

We will welcome any comments you may have.

DINNER RESERVATIONS

Please use the enclosed, stamped envelope to forward your dinner reservations for the November 10 meeting ($3.75 per person) for you and your guests. This will help greatly to reduce the usual confusion caused by at-the-table collection.

If your decision to attend can be made only at a time too late for mailing your check, please do not hesitate to come on this account. You can pay JOHN STEVNING on arrival.

NOVEMBER, 1864

OHIO ON THE MARCH TO THE SEA

On the 15th of November a century ago, nearly 15,000 Ohio men and boys began their famous (infamous if you prefer) march to the sea, almost one fourth of Sherman's 62,000 soldiers. With 52 regiments out of an army total of 218, Ohio was first in number among the states represented. Of these Ohio regiments the following contained companies from the Northeastern counties of the state: 29th, 37th, 52nd, 54th, 55th, 105th, and 124th; also the 15th Independent Battery.

Of the twelve division commanders three were Ohioans, namely, Charles R. Woods from Licking County, William B. Hazen, Portage County, and Mortimer D. Leggett from Geauga County. The latter is buried in Lakeview Cemetery.
